Corporate Facilities Security

Corporate facilities often require 24-hour, round the clock, security guard services to insure the safety and security of the building, its contents, as well as the corporate executives and staff inside. Executives at busy corporate facilities often face increased security challenges that require a higher level of security awareness, attention and performance by security officers. When the national threat level for security is elevated, security requirements are also elevated and may require additional manpower and resources. Security at corporate facilities demands individuals that are sharp, alert, and able to make sound and reasonable decisions in a split second.

Prince Security Services offers an excellent executive security protection program which includes such features as personal door-to-door escort services, intense screening of visitors at the facility, uninterrupted protection outside the door of top level meetings, and of course, an intense level of monitoring the surroundings. These services are performed by well trained, dedicated, security professionals.

At Prince Security Services, we are keenly aware of the challenges required to protect corporate facilities including prompt and professional actions in response to information received that would threaten the safety and security of the facility and the individuals therein. Our officers are trained to:

- Operate complex and multiple CCTV monitors
- Professionally perform 100% identification checks
- Direct visitors and other guests
- Rapidly respond to elevator and/or fire emergencies
- Assist with the evacuation policy
- Politely and professionally escort individuals from the facility
- Monitor parking areas
- Conduct rounds to insure safe environment
- Conduct fire watch services
- Prevention of unauthorized persons entering the facility
- Other duties as requested
