Security Services

Highly trained, armed and unarmed security officers for your private security needs

A highly trained security staff enables you to accomplish two important goals: First, deter incidents before they happen. Second, have a fast, professional response when necessary.

If you own a business, you are certainly aware of the monetary impact and damages of a burglary. If you own a home and/or have children, the safety of your loved ones and possessions is of utmost importance.

Whether you are considering additional security for your business or your community, trained security officers from Prince Security will provide the safety and security you need. Our security guards are well trained and professional, and will carry out a variety of duties to ensure your security.
